Jr. FFA Chapter Establishes "Pig Chain"

Mr. Franklin Foster (left) and Billy Coleman, Appomattox Jr. FFA member (right) hold two registered duroc pigs being used to start a chapter pig chain.

Thanks to Mr. Franklin Foster, of Concord, the Appomattox Jr. FFA Chapter was able to start a pig chain in a big way. Mr. Foster sold the chapter one registered duroc pig and gave one to the chapter.

These first two pigs were received by Billy Coleman and Brent Washburn, greenhand members of the Jr. FFA.

The chain operates this way: Billy and Brent receive the pigs free of charge. At the right age the gilts will be bred to one of the Sr. FFA chapter's registered Hampshire or Yorkshire boars, or any other well bred boar. When the baby pigs are born and become weaning age, Billy and Brent will each give another greenhand member a pig, free of charge. In turn, these members will go through the same process, and give a pig to another FFA member.
